ENTHUSIASTIC SMOKER GIVEN IN THE UNION

Maritime Club Holds Very Successful Event.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS.

Mandolin Club Furnished Much-Appreciated Music.

To say that the smoker of the Maritime Club was a mere success would do an injustice to the wonderful enthusiasm which prevailed among the "Down Easters" at the Union last evening. A magnificent attendance and unusually interesting programme and splendid fraternal feeling all contributed towards making the evening a "winner."

Shortly after eight, about a dozen of the faculty and 150 of the students gathered in the lounge room of the Union. The president, Mr. A. R. Lawrence, first called on Mr. Fink for a solo, which was rendered in a most pleasing manner. As an encore, Mr. Fink and his accompanist, Miss Dawson, responded with a most appropriate duet.

Mr. C. R. Cohen, K.C., of Yarmouth, N.S., then addressed the club. He dwelt upon the part which it had been the great privilege of the Maritime Provinces to contribute to the making of the Dominion. He urged that the traditions of the Maritime people of the past should be maintained by those of the younger generation in the great age of opportunity to come.

After a selection by the Mandolin Club, Professor Chapman then delighted the meeting in his inimitable style. The blending of the determined, stubborn Scot with the mellow Irishman, the every where found Englishman, and the suave Acadian produced the Maritime type. He paid a touching tribute to those of the Maritime Provinces who had "struck the Great Trail West."

This was followed by a very much appreciated recitation by Mr. Jack MacDonald, of Med. '21, who gave a pleasant reading as an encore.

Col. Peters, the honorary president, was the next speaker. He conveyed a message to the club from Sir Robert Borden, who was glad to know there was such a large number of Maritime men at McGill, and wished the club every success. He also referred to the record of the 86th Nova Scotia Battalion, and especially to its gallant Colonel.

MANY BASKETBALL MEN IN SCIENCE

First Turn Out Yields Good Material—Best Men To Practice Regularly.

Over forty players from Science donned gymnasium suits and showed up for the Faculty first practice.

They were immediately divided up into teams and tried out against each other, and judging by the team work and shooting, great material should be on hand for the coming season.

Many showed lack of practice and weakness towards grouping, but these difficulties should be easily overcome. The following played exceptionally well and will be called out for regular practices, starting November 25th:

The following are asked to turn out: James, Root, Craine, Finley, McMeane, Brown, R. Foss, D. Foss, Foster, Forbes, Martin, Corribeau, Jenkens.

Any others not mentioned above may be promoted to this squad by turning out to the regular gym classes, from which will be picked any players who show ability at the game.

MANY THANKS!

The Staff of the McGill Daily was delighted with the very kind and courteous manner in which they were treated by the executive of the Maritime Club last night. The refreshments and smokes were much enjoyed.

SEATS FOR GAME.

Notwithstanding the repeated reports of the Montreal Star to the effect that reserved seats for Saturday's game are sold out, tickets may still be obtained in the Union.

MYSTERIOUS MAN MENACES OLD MCGILL

Much Consternation Caused By Rugby Spy.

Who was the spy? This is the question which is to-day worrying every McGill man who hopes to see the Red and White team win through in the Big Game to-morrow. For, in spite of the elaborate precautions taken by the Athletic Association to keep the practice of the team absolutely secret, an outsider succeeded in getting past the lines of watchers yesterday afternoon. It is only thanks to a "Daily" representative that he did not succeed in getting away with a "bunch of dope" that would doubtless have been of supreme value to somebody.

Before the practice started, every man in the field was asked for his credentials. The players, and the very few spectators who were allowed on the Stadium, produced satisfactory evidence that they were supposed to be there. There was no reason to suspect that anyone from the outside was watching for the plays of "Shag's" men. Shortly after 3:15, the first members of the team made their appearance on the gridiron.

About two minutes later, just before "Shag" himself arrived, a "Daily" reporter noticed a man among the trees above the Stadium. He accordingly ran up to investigate this person, not liking his looks. The man, according to the description given at the "Daily" office is dark, of medium height, neatly dressed in a grey suit, with well-tailored, close-fitting, black overcoat, wearing a gray cap, and horn-rimmed glasses. As the reporter approached, the man was observed to be slipping a note-book into his pocket. This action in itself was suspicious. The McGill man, who was not lacking in courage, walked boldly up to the intruder and asked him who he was. He replied that he was "walking around the mountain."

On being told that the Stadium was not the way to reach the top of the mountain, he claimed he was a stranger in the city and that, having heard of the excellence of the McGill team he thought there could be no harm in his watching them for a few minutes. He declared he had no idea the practices were supposed to be secret, and that, as he went by, he naturally stopped to look for a moment. He was then asked what the purpose of the note-book he held in his hand could be. If he were only walking around the mountain. On being told that the stranger was an amateur artist, making sketches of Montreal from points of interest, the newspaper man demanded to see the book. Whereupon our mysterious friend took to his heels, and made more haste than grace in getting out. But he was not to get away as easily as that. The reporter, who made up in grit what he lacked in impressiveness, made a dash for him, and tackled him mid-way between the Stadium and the old Molson house. Here he succeeded in bringing him to the ground, but in a few moments the intruder, whose methods in fighting are very evidently similar to his ideas of decency, let loose with his feet at the representative and knocked him out for a few seconds. In this interval, however, his glasses were knocked off. It is unfortunate that the note-book also could not be secured, as it would doubtless have furnished information as to the man's identity.

It is regrettable that this incident should have occurred. Its result will doubtless be to make McGill more determined than ever to win the game to-morrow.

GOOD TURNOUT OF WRESTLERS AT THE UNION

Old and New Holds Were Practised.

INDIVIDUAL BOUTS.

Men Showing Great Improvement In Speed and Steady Breathing.

At five-fifteen yesterday about thirty men gathered at the Union to attend the wrestling practice. Work began sharp on time and continued for the entire hour and a half.

As at the other wrestlers, the first exercise to be carried out was the usual weight lifting contest. The purpose of the continued work along this line is to enable the wrestlers to secure a proper and stable poise at all times, both when they are carrying a live, moving load and a dead load. A wrestler who can do this without fumbling and allowing his man to get away from him has a great advantage over his opponent, and having this advantage over him while standing, he will be able to place him on the mat in a position which is most to his advantage.

Following this workout, Mr. Smith called Adams to the mat and proceeded to show the method of taking the Nelsons. On this case there are several holds, the inner and outer half Nelson, the quarter Nelson and the three-quarter Nelson. Following this demonstration, the counter to each of these throws were shown several times, so that the men might practise them during the short bouts which are held from six to six-thirty. Another hold which was shown for the first time was the chancery hold. This is taken from a standing position when the two men are close together. The man working the throw holds his opponent's head in his right arm, turning his back to him and grasping the other wrist with his left hand, draws him over his thigh and falls on him.

About this time the men fell in around the mat to hold the usual practice bouts. More speed and steadier breathing is being shown by the men as the work progresses, and at the present rate the wrestlers ought to be in first-class condition by the end of the first term.

Several old hands at the game are rounding into shape, and quite a few new men have shown up.

TWO MORE DAYS TO SUBSCRIBE

Arts Leading By Large Margin—Much Is Expected Of Science.

There remains only two days more in which the students may subscribe to the Victory Loan, and a drive will be made by the canvassers to make the total of subscriptions from the College as large as possible. The subscriptions received so far have been far greater than was at first expected, and the ambition of the College team is to make the total as large as possible in order to obtain the subscriptions of every student in the College.

Arts has still a great lead in the amount received, and it is hardly thought possible that any of the other faculty teams will be able to achieve as large a total. However, Science intends to make a great effort to catch up, and it is said that they have an unusually large number of applications ready to turn in on the last two days. Some of the canvassers among the engineering students have suggested the possibility that their total will be increased by very large amounts, and the Arts men will have to look to their laurels.

The Law canvassers report that they will turn in some additional totals today and try to maintain their place above that of the numerically superior Medicos. However, Medicine is beginning to pick up, and it only needs a little effort to place them far up in the list. To-night's report should give a very good idea of the positions which the various faculties will hold at the end of the campaign.

To-day's total is:

Arts	$40,350.00
Science	11,100.00
Law	3,800.00
Medicine	3,650.00
Total	$58,900.00

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1919.

The Soldier-Student

A letter recently appeared in these columns relative to the re-establishment of the returned student-soldier. The sentiments therein expressed were only those common to most of us, and we have purposely refrained from editorial comment until now in the hope that further correspondence on the subject would be forthcoming.

Look at it how he will, the student-soldier, who has attained the age of majority, has hard work convincing himself that his case has not been entirely disregarded by the government. It is indeed a paradox that Parliament with the avowed intention of assisting in the re-establishment of returned men should eventually adopt a measure which, though it embraces the prospective farmer, the man who aspires to the mastery of a trade and the student beneath the age of majority, yet leaves entirely out of account the man who, had the war not intervened, would at this moment be practising a profession. It is difficult to see exactly the justification for this discrimination against the men legally of age. Not a few men enlisted in the middle, or shortly prior to the completion, of their courses. To some the mere loss of these war years is a serious matter and to many this loss of time, combined with the financial position in which they now find themselves, makes the resumption of their studies an impossibility. That is, men of ability, who have partially fitted themselves for the line of work which they are most competent to do and in which they can render the best service to the country, are obliged to turn aside to whatever offers itself in the way of employment, regardless of their talents along special lines. For this reason, if for no other, it is hard to see the rationality of the government's policy in this respect. However, such indisputably is its attitude, and the uselessness of crying over spilt milk is sufficient justification for our turning from the government to other sources of relief.

Unfortunately the general public has not come to anything approaching a full realization of the importance of education and technical training as a national asset. This to some extent may account for the contention of Parliament that a measure which has for its purpose the assistance of the soldier-student below the age of majority would be "class legislation." There is, however, at least one place where the cause of education should be ardently championed and that is at our universities, and it is to them that we are going to turn in this instance.

Granted that as a rule our Canadian institutions of learning are not of the moneyed type, we do at least pride ourselves in the belief that they exist wholly and solely for the public welfare. It does not seem unreasonable to expect that this question of the re-establishment of soldier-students will be given the careful consideration of our universities, and we are confident that it is well within the power of these institutions to make up for the regrettable lack of government assistance. A careful investigation in the case of each university should reveal the cases in which assistance is warranted and in such instances the authorities could very well arrange to waive the collection of the usual academic fees. This at least would be a step in the right direction, and if supplemented by a modified system of student loan funds, it would in many cases make the completion of his course possible to the man who otherwise will be debarred owing to purely material circumstances, from ever qualifying for the profession to which he aspired.

to show that all the Maritime men were not of the Faculty of medicine." He said that this year was the proudest in the history of his teaching profession. Looking into the faces of returned men who went away as schoolboys, raised to the second power and returned youthful veterans, looking no older than seventeen, after three or four years overseas.

Then "Shag" told the meeting of the prospects of the football team. The best crowd he had ever dealt with, especially the returned men — as as they are bidden willingly. He thought the prospects were bright for Saturday.

The Mandolin Club interspersed with numerous selections in a whole-hearted and enthusiastic manner.

Colonel Mackay made reference to the great increase in the representation from the Maritime Provinces, a club which as a student he attended and in his present capacity he believed it to be one of the most popular organizations in the community. Professor Sullivan referred to the pleasure of meeting in the commodious quarters of a building provided by a Maritime man. He was not in favor of sectional clubs, but thought the existence of the Maritime Club was justified by what the

BIG CARNIVAL MAY BE STAGED AT OLD MCGILL THIS WINTER

No Definite News Can Be Made Public At Present, But As Soon As Arrangements Are Made, "Daily" Will Print Full Particulars—Already New Shoe-Shoe Club Is Under Formation—Ski Club Will Have Big Membership.

Perhaps the biggest athletic event to be held at McGill this winter will be a carnival. Elaborate plans have already been considered and several dates proposed for the affair although the authorities have as yet not given their official sanction.

The proposal has everywhere met with the approval of the student body and it is certain that something of a definite nature will be done within the next two weeks. Already men interested in athletics are organizing a snow-shoe club, and the consent of the President of the Council has been received so its existence is now practically a certainty.

The Ski Club, which was formed last year, is planning for its winter programme, and all the old supporters are showing a keen interest in its future. Figures compiled by the Club, show a large number of men who are old hands in the sport, back at college, and these are awaiting the beginning of the season.

If the plan materializes it will be one of the biggest displays of winter sports ever featured in this city. Clubs from all over Canada as well as a large number from the Eastern States will assemble here to vie with Varsity for the big honors. At the present time a number of letters from various colleges in regard to some such event have been received and all these clubs have signified their willingness to come here some time during the coming winter. No other fixture would be more potent in the furtherance of Canadian sports at the University, nor more instrumental in bringing about a closer understanding between our Canadian and American Universities, and its place in the athletic curriculum should be a permanent one.

NOTICES

ROOTERS.

Rooters will parade outside Union at 1:45 p.m. Saturday and march to Stadium.

The Band will attend. Programmes will be distributed free to Rooters at the Union.

Tickets will be on sale at Union on Saturday from 12:30 till 2: at seventy-five cents.

BAND PRACTICE.

There will be a band practice at 7:15 o'clock to-night at the Union. This will be to try over the new music for Saturday's game. The meeting is only going to be a short one, so be sure to turn up sharp on time. Every one must be present as a good practice is necessary.

All up 7:15 at the Union.

All students of the University and their friends in the city are invited to attend the lecture by Mr. Saunders on India, at Strathcona Hall, at 8 o'clock this evening.

B. W. AND F.

It has been found that many of the Medical students are unable to attend the boxing and wrestling practices due to lectures being held at the same hour. If all students so affected would sign their names to a notice on the main notice board in the New Medical Building, they would materially aid the executive of the B. W. and F. in a solution of this difficulty.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Those wishing to attend the game on Saturday are advised to purchase their tickets as soon as possible.

The demand for reserved tickets is so great that they will not be obtained by Saturday. Varsity has sent in an application for one hundred tickets.

Maritime men had done. The present academic standard and equipment of McGill are due to Maritime men. He cited Sir William Macdonald as an example.

Principal Fraser, of the Presbyterian College, told of experiences at Dorchester and Wolfville and B.E.L. and spoke to the club as a representative of each Maritime Province. He emphasized the morality of Maritime men by the fact of the small number in penitentiaries, inasmuch as they always registered under another province.

Dr. C. J. MacMillan, called on, outlined the success of previous Maritime Club members in the Great War. He emphasized the duty of the Maritime men to support their club and Alma Mater.

The president of the club in a speech urged individual patriotism to the club. He spoke of the fine example set by Maritime men as professors of the University, of whom there are so many. He pointed out that the interest which the staff took in the club must be made worthy of its inception, and felt sure that every man would give his support and confidence to make it represent his interests in the College.

Unfortunately, on account of time, it was impossible to call on other members of the staff present. The meeting adjourned for refreshments, provided by Mr. Price of the McGill Cafeteria, which were greatly enjoyed.

The meeting closed with cheers for the Faculty. The yells of Dalhousie, Acadia, Mt. Allison, University of New Brunswick and Prince of Wales resounded through the walls of the Union, followed by the grand old yell, M-C-G-I-L-L.

This concluded the first smoker of the re-organized Maritime Club. It was one of the most successful functions held at McGill this year, not only in point of numbers, but in the enthusiasm shown by those who attended. The students from the Maritime Provinces certainly are showing signs of great activity. The executive is especially to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which all the arrangements were carried out. Such an excellent revival of college spirit should be imitated by the other clubs around the University.

Part of the grand stand has been reserved for the Rooters' Club, so come early and secure your tickets.

Automobile tickets are also on sale, but as there are only 100 of these available, those desiring these tickets must buy them at once.

ATTENTION TO JUNIORS.

Arrangements have been concluded with Notman's for the taking of photographs. The sooner men have their pictures taken for insertion in the Annual the better. It is advisable that all go down as soon as possible.

LECTURE AT HALL.

A lecture by Kenneth Saunders will be given to-night at Strathcona Hall at 8 p.m.

USHERING.

Any man desiring to usher for the game Saturday should apply at once to the Union.

A. R. F.

Will A. R. F. whose letter on "Indoor Baseball" appeared in a recent issue of the "Daily," call at the office of Dr. Q. S. Lamb in the East Wing of the Arts Building.

ANNUAL BOARD.

Owing to unavoidable causes, the meeting of the Annual Board is postponed, and will take place at 7:15 on Monday, Nov. 17th, in the R.V.C.

LOST.

QUEEN'S PREPARE FOR ASSAULT-AT-ARMS.

The Boxing, Wrestling and Fencing Club of Queen's University has decided to hold an Inter-faculty Assault-at-Arms on Friday evening, December 12, 1919. In this assault teams from the different faculties will compete for the championship and the members of the winning team will get their faculty letter.
The last inter-faculty competition was held in 1914 and that year, Medicine swept everything before it. The winners in the events of the Inter-faculty Assault are usually the ones chosen to represent the University in the Inter-collegiate Meet, which will be held at Queen's this year.
Much enthusiasm is being shown this year in the workouts, and Messrs. Bews and Wythe have had about 100 candidates out at every period held so far this season.

RACHMANINOFF.

That quiet, musical genius of Russia, Sergei Rachmaninoff, is to appear in Montreal again. Those who heard this master last year will recall with delight his very wonderful playing. Rachmaninoff and the Twelfth Prelude are thought of together, one is worthy of the other, and both are of no mean value.
Rachmaninoff will appear in a recital at His Majesty's on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 23.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

Prospects Bright For Good Choral Society At Macdonald.

Last evening the first meeting of the Macdonald Glee Club was held in Room 207, and considering the short notice given the members, a good attendance was noted. The chorus was led by Mr. Stanton, and gave renditions of "The Blue Bells of Scotland" and "Good Night, Good Night, Beloved!" After the singing Mr. Stanton gave an interesting and instructive talk to his student singers on the subject of "Choral Technique."

In the course of his talk he spoke in words of praise and confidence in the talent shown, and in what he believes he can bring out more fully after a few practices. It is a short conclusion he gave than anticipated that with a little get-together these coming long winter evenings and with some enthusiasm, like one usually sees on a rugby field, we will have a very entertaining Glee Club this year.
The meeting unanimously decided that Tuesday at 6.45 p.m. should be the time for the regular weekly practice. It is urgently desired that all men students whether trained singers should come along, as more tenors and bases are necessary for balanced singing. As this club gives so much pleasure to the student body during the season it should be well supported.

At the weekly inter-class match last night, keen disappointment was felt when it was learned that the girl students would not be allowed to witness the game. This was not confined only to the men's side of the campus. However, this has been quite a strenuous week, with a "Ball" Tuesday night and dancing again to-night. Again, Section A had a hard day in the city teaching this week. We are hoping the girls will be on hand to spur the players with their presence next week.

SOPHS CRUSH THE JUNIORS IN BASEBALL

First Indoor Game For Robertson Shield.

SCORE 16 TO 8.

Sophomores Got Easy Lead At Start Which Juniors Were Unable To Overcome.

The first game in Macdonald's Indoor Baseball Inter-class Series was played last night between the Juniors and Sophomores, the Sophomores having won by a score of 16-8. The game was a very interesting one to watch. In the first innings the score was fairly even, but gradually the Sophs piled up a lead which the hard-working Juniors were unable to overcome. Poor fielding on the part of the Juniors was the main factor in their defeat, as they allowed many hits that should have been easy outs. They were not swift enough on the bases either, losing many possible runs by being caught off bases by the vigilant Sophs. There were no outstanding individual plays, as all the players did equally well.

In the first inning the Juniors got one run from a base on balls drawn by Hickey, and a hit by Bradford. In the first half, the Sophs netted one run through the good base-running of Peewee. The next three men went out in order. In the second, the Juniors failed to score, while the Sophs amassed a total of three.

The third saw no scoring on either side. In the fourth the Sophs hit 'em hard, and got three more, making their total 7 to the Juniors' lonely 1. But in the fifth the Juniors came back more strongly, and by dint of good batting got three men across the plate. Not to be beaten, the Sophs came across with four in their half of the stanza, to which they added two in the sixth. In the seventh the Juniors managed to push one man over, but the Sophs retaliated with three more runs.

This marked the end of the scoring for the Sophs. In the eighth and ninth the Juniors added three more, but could not out down the lead the Sophs had piled up. The result of this game leaves the Sophomores in the running for the championship.

The umpires, E. M. Ricker and H. I. Evans, did excellent work. Their decisions were quick and decisive, resulting in no disagreements.

NOTICES.

On Friday night the Faculty of Macdonald College are holding a "dance" in the Men's Gymnasium. In order that this may not interfere with study hour, Friday night will be free night; instead of Saturday, and the men will be allowed to visit the Girls' Building to enjoy another little evening of dancing and sing song.

CHARMING THE DANCANT.

Tuesday afternoon, Armistice Day, Miss Dolly Harrison entertained some of the College students at a delightfully arranged "The Dancant." The house was prettily decorated with roses and ferns. Among those present were the Misses Naimith, Savage, Currie, Holcomb, Goodwin, Harkness, Matthewman, Endler, McClenaghan and Messrs. Buchanan, Norcross, Laurie, Evans, W. Jones, R. Jones, Chaurin, Brighton, Holcomb, Ross, Shepherd and Graham.

RIFLE CLUB PRACTICE.

The "Leadsingers" Rifle Club held their first practice on Friday evening last. Considering that most of the men present had not done any shooting for some time, the scores were pleasingly high. Several practices were fired, with and without a "rest," and in nearly every case an improvement was noted, indicating that practice is all that is necessary in order to obtain the highest score. Bags carried off the best target without using a rest. Milne ran him a very close second.

As to-night is fine night, and there will be the usual dancing in the Girls' Building, the shoot will take place after lectures, from 4.30 till 5.45 p.m. A larger attendance is expected this time, and members will not forget to furnish themselves with targets and ammunition from the Book Store. Edward and Milne will be in charge of the practice to-night.

Miss Isabel Crain, who went home to Ottawa on account of illness, returned to the College on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lancaster, wife of the Rector of St. George's Church, entertained some of the girls of the College at the tea hour yesterday. Those present were Misses Southwood, West, Peabody, Nelson, Thompson, Wheeler, McGuire, White and Nesbitt.

SECOND GAME FOR THE BOVING CUP

Seniors and Sophomores Soccer Game Results in No Score.

The second game of Soccer for the Boving Cup was staged yesterday afternoon. The Sophomores got away with a good start, with the wind in their favor. They carried the ball towards the Seniors' goal, resulting in a corner kick for the Sophs. McGreer planned the corner well, but Hay sent the ball well up to centre field. For five minutes the play was even, then the Seniors made a good rush towards the Sophomore goal. During the scramble in front of the goal, Donalds fouled the ball, resulting in a penalty. Luckily for the Sophomores the wind spoiled the Senior penalty, shot by Sam Skinner. When play was resumed, the Seniors again attempted to score, but Crang drove the ball well out of danger. The Sophomores now tried to work in a shot resulting only in another corner kick. The corner was placed by Donalds, but Saunders and Skinner played such neat combination that they were able to carry the ball well toward the other end of the field.

The Senior rooters yelled themselves hoarse, but still they failed to tally, and at half time the score stood 0-0.

In the second half, both teams started out to win, and some very strenuous and keen playing resulted. The Seniors showed better combination and, working better together, kept the ball well towards the Sophomore goal. They shot time after time, but, as it was getting dark, the kicking was too wild. There was one breathless moment for the Sophs when Saunders shot from close in front, but again the ball floated just over the cross-bar. For the last ten minutes it became so dark that it was impossible to see the ball, and the game became a "hit and miss," mainly miss, competition. So dark was it at last that the spectators were able to mingle freely with the players and, when the issue was of such moment, can we wonder if the enthusiastic rooter did his bit to help the ball towards the rival team's goal? In the midst of a lively scene in front of the Sophomore goal, the whistle blew time and the score still stood at nil.

The lineup was as follows:

Seniors	Sophomores
Neal.....Goal.	Skinner
Matthews.....Right Back.	Templeton
Hay, W. D.....Left Back.	McGrier
Walsh.....Right Half.	Hammond

HARRIERS IN COMPETITION ON SATURDAY

Inter-collegiate Men Starts From Stadium.

CLOSE CONTEST.

Hamilton and Antliff Are the Backbone Of the McGill Team.

One of the most exciting and closely contested competitions of the year will be held from the Stadium to-morrow morning, when the Inter-collegiate harrier run will be staged at 11 o'clock sharp. Strong teams have been entered from Queens, R.M.C., Toronto, and McGill, and advance reports show that all are in perfect condition for the long grind.

The McGill team have been practising faithfully during the past three weeks, and if hard work counts for anything, they should certainly come out on top. Frequent trips over the heart-breaking mountain climb and across the slippery fields by the park slide have hardened the men, until they reckon they can stick it with anyone.

The team are relying to a great extent on Hamilton and Antliff coming in first and second amongst the twenty starters, and it will certainly be surprising if they don't. By his performance during the track meet Hamilton stamped himself as one of the greatest runners ever turned out by the Red and White, and there is no one who has any doubt of his ability to win the classic. Antliff is more of an uncertain quantity, and his running in the three miles at the Inter-collegiate sports was hardly up to the standard expected. However, he has improved 100 per cent during the past three weeks and the man who noses him out on Saturday will surely know that he has been through a race. It would not be surprising in fact to see a pretty finish staged between the two McGill champions.

A team, however, is not made up of two men, and we are fortunate in having three good runners to make up the remainder of the quintette. Boucher, who came fourth in the trial run has been training hard during the past week and big things are expected of him. Douglas and Desbarats, the other two members, are good natural

MCGILL VARSITY GAME.

Every girl who has signed up for a ticket for the McGill-Varsity game on Saturday is requested to meet Miss Nichol on the R.V.C. tennis courts, at 1.30 p.m. to-day (Friday).

FRENCH THEATRICALS.

The French Theatricals originally arranged for the 26th November, 1919, have been postponed until December 10th, 1919.

R. V. C. UNDERGRADUATES.

The Victory Loan campaign closes on Saturday, November 15, but for various reasons it is desirable that all subscriptions from the R.V.C. should be in by to-day. Therefore will those students who are still considering the matter make up their minds by three o'clock. Someone will be in the Common Room from one until three to receive subscriptions.

LOST.

DR. WITHROW'S LECTURES.

At Dr. Withrow's lecture on Thursday afternoon, November 6th, question papers were handed to the students. Dr. Withrow would be glad if these papers were answered and given to Miss Helen Nichol who will see that they are forwarded as soon as possible. Will you kindly address the paper to Miss Nichol, and put it on the R.V.C. notice board by Monday, November 18th?

runners and will keep going till they drop if necessary, to keep McGill in the running.

R.M.C. and Toronto are both bringing down well-balanced, if not brilliant, teams. The latter are relying to a great extent on Leigh, who came second in the three mile Inter-collegiate run, and his performance on that occasion certainly showed that he was no slouch. In the trial run at Toronto Leigh finished first, and the remainder of the team were all less than a minute behind him, so that we shall have an extremely good all-round team against us. Cadets who were down from the R.M.C. at the football game last Saturday brought reports that the R.M.C. aggregation are the best ever turned out by the soldiers, and are confident of winning. In spite of this we shall have to see the race itself before we are willing to acknowledge that they have anything on old McGill.

The race itself will start at 11 o'clock sharp from the Stadium. The course is laid out as follows:—West on Pine avenue to the serpentine at the head of Peel street, up the serpentine to the Mountain road, west on the Mountain road to near the Park Slide, circle out onto the field and back onto the road, return east under the incline railway and around to Fletcher's field, back by Pine avenue and finish with 1½ laps on the track. The following are running against McGill:—

J. B. Lewis, Sutherland and Biglow for R.M.C.; Leigh, Neylan, Bell, Davidson and Ketchum for Varsity; and Pomeroy for Queens.

A hard and close contest is expected, and it is up to the students of McGill to give the team their moral support by turning out in force. By doing so the team will not only feel encouraged at the start but also while they are fighting for victory during the last 1½ laps on the track. Those unable to get up in time for the start at 11 o'clock should make a great effort to arrive for the finish at 11.30.

MANDOLIN CLUB.

The executive and members of the Maritime Club wish to tender their sincere thanks to Mr. Peate and the members of the Mandolin Club, for their generous entertainment at our smoker last night. Their performance went a long way towards making the function the great success that it was. Among the selections especially appreciated were the old favorites, "Blowing Bubbles," "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary," "Chons," and "Tell Me."

OFFICIAL LINE-UP

Snappy Practice At the Stadium Yesterday Afternoon.

At 3.15 yesterday the Seniors and Intermediates turned out in full force on the Stadium. A little time was spent in kicking the ball around until "Shag" appeared. He segregated the halves and coached them in kicking, passing and catching. The two teams then lined up for signal practice. The personnel of the two teams was slightly changed from the day before. Norm Williamson took Cope's place during the signal practice, and "Bud" Welter took the position of Wilson, who goes back to the Seals. Gilhooly also was back in his old place at outside wing.

This practice was held in the utmost secrecy, great care being taken that none but bona fide McGill men should get a glimpse of the men in action.

After a few minutes' practice, the two teams faced each other. "Shag" particularly impressed on the players that this was only a skeleton game, and that no rough play would be allowed. The orders were to let the plays go through without stopping them. Tackling was strictly forbidden. Of course, this did not always work out, as the temptation to stop a man going through is well-nigh irresistible. Both teams, however, nobly resisted the temptation.

At first the Second team had the ball, and on the orders of Coach Shaughnessy tried some fast and tricky plays which, however, did not always succeed, due to the fact that the Seniors knew most of the plays, and the ones they didn't know they guessed, as they are well versed in tricky plays themselves. At the start of the practice, Cope replaced Williamson, as Shag is saying him for the game Saturday. Allan also replaced Webster at inside on the Second. Allan is a Senior star, and should add weight to the line Saturday morning. Whittall was replaced by Hague, as Whittall's back still bears the mark of last Saturday's game. There is small doubt that if the Seniors had been allowed to tackle, very few plays would ever have gotten through the opposing line.

Then the Seniors took the ball and proceeded to show their superior ability. They have more weight and strength, and naturally made things rather hot for the Second team. Ambridge replaced Hall at left inside, then the exhibition match proceeded. Shag changed around most of the team, sending Flanagan, Gilhooly, Layshp, Seath and others around the track, replacing them with spares, who, until this time, had stood shivering around the side-lines. After a few more plays the teams separated for signal practice, all on their own, then Shag coached them "twice around the field and in."

The Juniors took a day off to-day, no doubt due to their strenuous game yesterday. All, however, are in splendid condition, and entertain no doubt as to the outcome of the game between them and the Railroad Y.V.C.A. which takes place on November 22nd, and which decides the championship of the league.
